“We implemented Microsoft Dynamics GP in only two months. The implementation was flawlessly executed.”

Nicole Dutilly, Controller

Business needs:

Before being acquired by Veolia Transport, the bus company managed several school bus, adapted bus and urban bus service contracts with different companies. The buses were kept in three different depots.

All the data was compiled in an Excel spreadsheet: Providing real-time global results was unthinkable.

With the acquisition by Veolia Transport, it became even more obvious that Microsoft Dynamics GP was needed to standardize and streamline operations in North America.

Solution:

By implementing Microsoft Dynamics GP, Veolia Transport now has access to a powerful tool that computerizes, integrates and customizes financial operations providing insight into critical information needed for sound strategic decisions.

Benefits:

Thanks to Microsoft Dynamics GP, Veolia Transport can now benefit from a global view of its three bus depots, by contract and industry segments, which also facilitates decision making.

Financial statements are consolidated in a couple of minutes instead of the couple of hours it used to take.

The extra time increases productivity and reduces cost significantly.

About the partner Strophe:

“It only took two months to implement Microsoft Dynamics GP—it was managed like clockwork. Budget and timelines were respected. Project managers were knowledgeable about the challenges in our industry. We are very satisfied with their support response time,” commented Nicole Dutilly.

Strophe is proud to have contributed to the success of Veolia Transport.
